Dear ABC,

Please find our analysis of your 'Mars in Marriage' Report.

We thank you for giving us this opportunity to analyze this specialized report based on your birth charts. The objective of this report is not to make any predictions but to put forth the trends in a given set of planetary configuration, which sets one apart from the pack. It is also our objective to possibly stimulate awareness of one's afflictions and recognize that one's behavioural outputs are provoked by the planets in certain ways and not by the people around us. This perhaps is the first step towards any remedial measures one can adopt.

It would be necessary for us to point out that the accuracy of what has been written in our analytical report depends on the accuracy of the time of births given to us by you.

We sincerely hope that through awareness of the traits within you, as provoked by the planets, you would be in a position to make yourself happier.

Best Regards

‘Mars in Marriage’ Analysis

Mars – The Planet

This red and fiery planet is the commander-in-chief of the army of the gods. In a horoscope he is the signifier of valour, real estate, strength, brother, fire and security. He is a mature young man and rules the southern direction. His preferred colour is red and his chosen gem is red coral. He is not counted amongst the handsome and is slightly hunchbacked. He also rules the blood-related ailments, the marrow and the bile. He controls the menstrual cycle of women and an individual’s sexual drive and potency depend on the strength and position of Mars. He is notorious for creating all kinds of marital problems (including early death of spouse, dependent however on the configuration of other planets) if positioned in certain houses from the Ascendant.

The Manglik Affliction of Mars

The terminology Manglik is ascribed to individuals afflicted by the position of Mars in their birth-chart in specific houses. This causes some traits, the common factor being to cause delay in one’s marriage & affecting happiness in marital life. It does not affect the individual in any other aspect of life but does affect relationships all around with friends, near & dear ones in family and specifically one’s spouse. In such situations, marriage to another Manglik can be the redeeming factor as the evil afflictions can get neutralized. If the spouse is also a Manglik, there is not much problem. Otherwise, Mars can cause all kinds of marital problems, including use of harsh words and breakdown of understanding. The affliction may also affect the brother of the Manglik, particular younger brother/s, if any. While Mars posited in the 4th and 12th houses means ordinary dosha, it can be moderately severe in the 1st but in the 7th and 8th, it is grave and much greater. In the worst case, in the 7th, it can induce bad characteristics in the spouse and can affect the longevity of the spouse, while in the 8th, it is termed as 'maraka' for the spouse, implying possible death besides begetting less children.

Mars's Position in two charts:

In the natal chart of ABC, Mars is posited in the 7th house whereas in the Moon chart, it is posited in the 2nd house. It is posited in the 6th house in the Navamsha chart (the 9th harmonic chart). Hence ABC's natal chart is a Manglik chart. Since Mars is acting as an obstructive planet, so it could create problems in the proper enjoyment of romantic and marital aspects of life.

In XYZ's natal chart, Mars is posited in the 12th house in its debilitated sign Cancer. In the Moon chart, it is posited in the 1st house and in the Navamsha Chart (the 9th harmonic chart), it is posited in the 3rd house. It signifies that XYZ has a strong Manglik horoscope. Therefore, the position of Mars in her horoscope might create more obstruction in the proper enjoyment of romantic pleasure.

In such a situation it is possible that XYZ may try to dominate ABC to some extent in this relationship. Although it is the first romantic relationship that mainly gets affected by the malefic influence of Mars in a person's life who has Mangalik affliction in his or her chart, but after the break up of first relationship, its negative impact also goes down for subsequent relationships to some extent. Therefore, if both of you had any break up in the past, then the bad influence of Mars would get minimized. Otherwise in long run it is not a positive indication for this romantic relationship. In conclusion, according to Martian Dynamics, the compatibility between the two natal charts is mediocre, which indicates some obstructions time-to-time in the proper enjoyment of romantic pleasure.

Mars's effect in respective houses in individual chart:

In ABC's natal chart, Mars is the lord of ascendant as well as 6th house and it is posited in 7th house. The planetary placement of Mars is having a negative impact on the romantic and marital aspects of life. However, on personal level, Mars would provide him strong will power and diligent personality. He would be able to perform his all responsibilities in better manner. At the same time, Mars would be also supportive with respect to professional progress and success due to its aspect on the house of profession. Since Mars is also the lord of 6th house, so it would give him victory and success over his competitors. In short, except romantic life, Mars would be very supportive planet for him with respect to other aspects of life.

In the natal chart of XYZ, Mars is the lord of the 4th house as well as the 9th house and it is situated in the 12th house in debilitated sign Cancer. The above said position of Mars cannot be said to be very supportive and favourable for her with respect to all the aspects of life. Though the position of Mars in 12th house would give her better settlement in abroad and take her away from motherland, but it is also not good with respect to support and enjoyment of good relation with her mother. At the same time, 9th house lord debilitated Mars is also not good for social prestige and status. So, she might not enjoy the same what she deserves.

Effect of Mars in respective signs:

Mars is in the zodiac sign Taurus in ABC's chart, which is the sign of Venus. Since Mars and Venus are sharing an Enemy relationship in his chart, hence Mars could not be able to give all favourable results in its related areas in his life.

In XYZ's chart, Mars is in the zodiac sign Cancer, which is the sign of Moon and debilitated sign of Mars. Hence, she might experience the negative effects of Mars in her life.

Nakshatra Milapak-Summary

The conclusion of the above analysis wherein we have discussed the role of Mars in the two natal charts in context of your contemplating relationship is encouraging to some extent. This is because though the planetary configurations and position of Mars in XYZ's chart are making her strong Manglik, however the position of Mars in ABC's chart is also making him Manglik, which would be able to neutralize the bad influence of Mars in the horoscope of XYZ. This means that if any relationship would be formed between both of you then XYZ might try to play an influential role to some extent. Even then both of you would enjoy a mediocre level romantic pleasure with each other. Since the planetary position of Mars and other planets in the horoscope of ABC is able to neutralize the bad planetary influence of Mars in the horoscope of XYZ, so despite of certain ups and downs in romantic life, it would be a stable relationship. At the same time, in my opinion, if XYZ might have experienced break up in relationship in the past, then the bad impact of Mars would get minimized and this match would become marriageable also.

At the same time, the Nakshatra Melapak score of the two natal charts is very high and favourable for the enjoyment of romantic relationship. The two charts have scored 26 points out of the total compatibility score of 36, which is referred as an excellent score. This indicates that both of you might share and enjoy a very good and blissful romantic relationship. There may be some occasional ups and downs due to mismatch of Mars position in both the horoscopes. Even then both of you would gain better than moderate happiness in this relationship due to the support of Nakshatra Melapak.

Since the two charts have scored well in the crucial Nadi and Bhakut Melapak tests, therefore there would be very good financial prosperity and romantic happiness between two of you. At the same time, the Grahamaitri is also very good. It would help to neutralize the differences on any issues in the relationship if they arise.

However, the Gana Melapak is not good. Compatibility on ideological and behavioral grounds would be not good. Hence both of you should try to respect each other's views and opinions in routine life. Since as per the Yoni Milapak, the physical relationship will be very satisfying and happy aspect of married life, which can said to be the central point of bond in this relationship. Therefore, from the overall analysis of Kundali Milapak, it is concluded that you can definitely establish a relationship with each other without any hesitation. .

Astrological Remedies:

ABC:

You have a strong Manglik horoscope. You should harmonize Martian energy and neutralize Manglik affliction by wearing Hanuman Kavach as soon as possible. It will act as a natural shield to protect you against Manglik affliction and it is a lifetime recommendation for you.

XYZ:

Currently you are under the main period of Mars till May 2014. Due to the Manglik influence, you might experience some problem in the proper enjoyment of romantic pleasure. Therefore, you should wear Planetary Yantra for Mars immediately, which will be beneficial for the fulfilment of desires.
